

Birth Control Case Appeal

BOSTON, June 5 (AP)—The United States Court of Appeals for the First District has taken under advisement an appeal of William R. Baird, sentenced to jail for 90 days for giving a birth control device to a coed. Mr. Baird was freed on bail after serving 36 days when it was disclosed that three members of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court considered his conviction unconstitutional.

The New York Times

Copyright © The New York Times
Originally published June 6, 1970